

WASHINGTON LAWYER

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA BAR MAGAZINE

DECEMBER 2016

The National Law Center on Homelessness & Poverty has been featured within the December 2016 issue of The Washington Lawyer, the District of Columbia's Bar Magazine. The publication featured the Law Center within their Community & Connections section (compiled by Jeffery Leon) twice, which provides news and notes on the D.C. Bar legal community. Listed below is the commentary that The Washington Lawyer provided for the featured photos above:

HOOPS & HOLDER

Washington Wizards point guard John Wall is presented with the Stewart B. McKinney Award by Ted Leonsis, founder and chief executive officer of Monumental Sports & Entertainment and majority owner of the Wizards. The award was presented on September 22 during the National Law Center on Homelessness & Poverty's 18th Annual McKinney-Vento Awards. Wall was recognized for his work in combating youth homelessness in the District of Columbia.

On October 6, in a separate event, the Law Center honored former U.S. Attorney General Eric H. Holder, presenting him with the Outstanding Achievement Award. Holder is pictured with Maria Foscarnis, founder and executive director of the Law Center.
